NIL FALSI AUDEAM. NIL VERI NON "AUDEAM DICERE". (Cicero.)

THURSDAY June 20th 1872

Political review of the Fortnight.

By the French mail, which left here on the 14th instant we acquainted our European readers of the submission of General Peñaloza, who during six months, after the fall of Urquiza, and Urquiza, carried on an active guerilla in the inner provinces. We also glanced at the first measures of Congress; a vote of confidence in General Mitre, the rejection of the Cordoba Deputies as being improperly returned, and the decree for election of President and Vice of the Republic. The other events were; an Indian invasion in Santa Fé and Cordova when the savages penetrated to Fort Mercedes (500 miles distant from Buenos Ayres), a projected liquidation of paper money by a Government issue of 6 million silver dollars on public Bonds, and the removal of the National Archives from Paraná to this city.

Since then we have not progressed much; already a month has passed over the new Congress, and the capital question is not resolved. At present General Mitre is acting President, and no doubt is entertained of his nomination to the chief authority, which will come off by July 27th or 28th. He has declared that he will answer for public peace unless the metropolis be fixed within this province, which means that it cannot be elsewhere, for the National hopes are centred in him, and his word may be regarded as law. The Government suggested that this city should be made provisional capital, for a term of five years, on the expiration of which, San Nicolas would become the permanent seat of the Legislature of the Republic. This project was ably combatted in the Senate, by Doctor Sarsfield, on two grounds. 1st. It involved the suppression of our Provincial existence for that lengthened term, contrary to the Constitution. 2nd. It postponed the difficulty, and weakened public confidence by apparently shirking a definitive settlement of the question. He proposed as amendment the federalization of San Fernando, with a square league of territory, as the seat of Government, with permission for the authorities to reside in this city until the necessary preparations should be completed at the new capital. This is obviously the best plan, seeing that it leaves intact the prerogatives of B. Ayres, avoids the anomaly of two Executives in one city, and places the capital on neutral ground at a convenient distance from this port, through which it has ready communication with the exterior world. The Government offered to compromise the annihilation of this province, by heading the Commissioners of B. Ayres on 6th ultimo, but amalgamating the National and Provincial executives in the person of General Mitre.

The Commission failed to proceed to Bell either ordered and as this arrangement would make Mitre all powerful, there is a strong provincial opposition. It is moreover doubtful whether Congress occupies the Provincial Senate-house, losing in some manner an intruder, contrary to the dignity of Deputy. Hence it is more convenient to remove the national Assembly to a special territory of its own. San Nicolas is too far from B. Ayres (50 leagues), whereas San Fernando will shortly be placed within hourly communication of this city thus deriving all the benefits without any of the inconvenience, attached to a Metropolis fixed in B. Ayres. The committee is still sitting, and when the incubation terminates we hope to see Sarsfield's amendment full-fledged in the form of a National Law.

The Indians have been of late very troublesome in the neighboring provinces, sacking and devastating the whole line of our northern frontier. It is supposed they belong to the tribe of Abipones, and have retired to the woods of the Gran Chaco, laden with booty. Some Chilian savages from the Cordillera made simultaneous inroads but as yet we do not learn that any foreigners have suffered, there being few or none in those districts. But not Ayres and our Irish farmers are exempt from such terrors, and incursions are occurring into this port, since our Campagna offers a wide field for industry with comparative security for life and property.

Meantime our city is infested with a dangerous gang of street-robbers who strip and plunder unarmed way-farers after nightfall. The police has not succeeded in checking their outrages, and the night watchmen do not inspire much confidence among sober citizens. Houses have been entered and robbed by these ruffians, who are said to be disguised under various forms, and we are almost as much alarmed as if the cut-throats were in a state of siege. Some of the local prints charitably allege that they have come [65 in number] from Montevideo, but others more naturally surmise that they are of the disbanded legionaries, who contracted idle habits in the late campaign and prefer pillage to labor. If the number and character of these alleged Montevidean refugees be so well known, it is a pity they are not arrested.

The Cordoba railway, which was knocked on the head by the late war, is revived and a company is in formation with a capital of one million silver dollars in ten thousand shares. The committee includes some intelligent gentlemen, among others Doctor Hutcheson the British Consul. This line is destined to be the main artery of commercial life in the Provinces, and the engineer Mr. Wheelwright has reported favorably in his survey. Another English gentleman, Mr. Richards, is at the San Juan silver-mines, which, by his account are very rich, and the Governor Sarmiento devotes especial attention to this important enterprise which seems destined, sooner or later, to rescue our declining paper-credit, by flooding us with specie.

Great efforts will shortly be made to try cotton-growing on an extensive scale. Mr. Hopkins, late American consul at Asuncion, has deported in the office of this paper three small bags of Egyptian and Georgian cotton seed from the U. S. patent office. Already many of the foreign consumers have applied for samples to set cement in their garments, and a general interest is felt on the subject. If the Cotton Supply Association would furnish a small quantity to us, we will ensure their interests as far as possible. As Mr. Hudson of our acquaintance has found the soil a complete excellent cotton, which grows wild in Santa Fé, our neighboring province. We understand that the consul at Rosario has set himself on the task, but his labours would probably prove more successful if the work resulting in this city. In Entre Rios, at 12 hours' sail from our port, cotton grows very well, and one of the Deputies of that province sent to us for information only yesterday. We will publish, next week, the directions for sowing, and augur an increased study of this industrial product.

The Italian Opera Co. is giving some first-rate representations; Miss Altieri, a young and fascinating prima donna of Irish extraction, has caused a furore among one-half of the city, the other half [mostly natives] preferring Mme Parodi a talented Italian artiste. The former is an enchanting actress, possessing great personal beauty a voice of unequalled sweetness, most captivating manners, and a fund of esprit rarely met with in the fair sex.

We have, unhappily, frequent occasion to comply in of an abuse of authority especially in the rural districts where every little magnate rules like a Pacha. It is difficult for Government to curb such unwholesome sway, except by a signal vengeance for every act of tyranny and cruelty, which is not communicated. Lately we read of the slaughter of a party of peaceful Indians, who being allies of Buenos Aires came to exchange their ostrich feathers for other commodities. It appears an officer of Bahia Blanca, on our Southern frontier, had been robbed of some horses which were afterwards returned by the friendly Caciques, but the insult was unpardonable and this haughty official coolly ordered the murder of fifteen of the Indian traders who were unarmed. And yesterday we saw a Police officer striking on the head a prisoner who had attempted to escape; when some of our friends presented themselves before the Minister of Police to protest in the name of common humanity against the fellow's misconduct, the high official ordered the minions to turn them out, saying that he "knew his duty and would listen to nothing". In time we may grow a little more humane and polite; but it is just to say that we hear many persons praise Sor. Cazon as an efficient public censor, although he has often in public places to rebuke, and it must be confessed his task is very arduous.

The bill has passed through our Provincial Chambers for the establishment of Branch-banks in the Provinces, and the Messrs. Mercher, and Dobres, the centres of the North, West and South of this state; they will be on the plan of our city Bank, whose paper is 20 per cent below par, and unless, as we hope, the currency be at once fixed, their benefit will be an ambiguous contingency.

The reception of the Hon. Mr. Kirk, new American Minister, was attended with great official pomp, as it is to cultivate closer bonds of amity between the two publics so united in diplomatic relations. The sympathies of Argentines are generally with the North, and there are but few accessories in B. Ayres, and have we seen the southern flag but in the River Plate. Some animosity is kindled through all these states against the allies in Mexico, although no serious fears are entertained of an European invasion.

It is confidently asserted that General Urquiza, far from intending his retirement to Europe, is about to encourage immigration on a moderate manner, giving to each individual a quantity of land, and so do to paid for within five years. Fac est ab hoste doceri. Would that every Governor of Entre Rios would imitate his sister province and encourage the Entre-Rios autocrat.

In literary matters there is little of novelty; excepting a French paper, which we have started for those of our foreign friends, who read not English. The "Miserables" of Victor Hugo has caused quite a sensation. One Dr Minelli, who gave himself out as an historical oracle, began to expound Genesis rather freely, denying the Divine origin of man, and propagating some of Gibbon's stereotyped blasphemies, which brought down the episcopal veto and excommunication, his teaching being highly prejudicial to a group of boys who composed his class; we understand he is gone to the Provinces; perhaps on a propaganda tour.

Industrial Review

This month has closed in on us rather dull, owing to the heavy rains and the want of railroads in the country all connection between town and country has been virtually suspended, particularly so in the South; the road to the Barracca bridge is perfectly impassable on account of the mud, and bullock carts laden with hides and wool from the country have to wait outside until the weather takes up and the roads get better. Lamentable in the extreme is this state of affairs and all look forward to the time when the works of the Conesous railroad shall begin, as this road would enable us to receive produce both in summer and winter.

Few enterprizes in the state are more deserving attention than the projected line of railroad from this city to Chascomus and Dolores: it will run through a country thickly populated by foreign settlers, who in years like the present are compelled to keep their wool &c. in their dwellings of not immediately carted into market after shearing, which is generally speaking the most disadvantageous period for the farmer.

We are authorized to state that on the organization of the company, the Estancieros and sheep farmers in the South will largely invest in the stock, not as a speculation, but a permanent investment. Mr. Green who is at this city, last month, for England, is a man of high standing in our commercial society. The object of his trip is to form a joint stock [limited] company; he has already with him, the Government concession or grant, which guarantees 7 p% on the invested capital.

The Government, appreciating the great utility of this road, has been most liberal in the concession and although £100,000 per mile was deemed exorbitant by many, the authorities, knowing that the proposal came from a responsible party, and that, if once undertaken, it would be carried through, lent their assistance to carry the measure.

The works of the San Fernando Railway, owing to the heavy rains, have been slightly retarded; but since the sailing of the French packet, the sleepers have been laid, and the rails are on as far as Palermo, which may be regarded as half way to Belgrano.

This company has got out an iron bridge manufactured in England, which has arrived at the station here, for the crossing of the Maldonado; they have also two locomotives and several passenger cars on the American style fitted up most gorgeously. In the Company works shops the greatest activity prevails, and but for the frequent rains, which we have had this month, we do not doubt at all that the roads would have been opened next months as it is, if the contractor can count upon consecutive working days for the escape of running to Belgrano at the end of August.

The water-works of Buenos Ayres are at present in a state of repair first, on account of the great rains, which, having filled all the cisterns, people see no necessity for spending money, for an artificial supply of what Nature has been latterly so lavish: 2dly, because another and more comprehensive scheme has been brought before the city fathers, by the bouse of E. Murray London. We understand that surveys are being made, and that in a few days this proposal of Messrs. E. Murray & Co. will be brought before the public.

On Sunday next the inauguration of the Artesian Well is to take place. The water has been flowing in one continued stream these weeks past about 500 pipes per day. Messrs. Sorcaux & Co. are justly proud of their great scientific triumph. The utility of this Artesian Well will be better appreciated during the summer months than at present as it will afford a means of sewerage and drainage for the Suburbs a thing greatly wanted in the vicinity of Barracas.

The Government, although occupied with a question of vital importance, not only to this city, but the country in general, (viz; the location of the capital of the Argentine republic), evinces every disposition to rectify the currency as soon as possible. The Minister's plan has been brought before the house, but as yet nothing has been done, and we may add that the matter is in embryo, owing to the report that an English banking company, with a capital of one million, is about being started in this city.

Nothing is so wanted in this city as a good Bank on the English system; there cannot exist the slightest doubt that any company, bringing into this country one million sterling fresh capital, will receive from Government the privilege of issuing a convertible paper currency. In fact no Government could refuse it, which would refuse granting such a right: the only possible question, which might arise, would be as to the nature and character of the security depositable as representing the paper emission; if upon Government securities, it should be title-deeds to Public Lands. By the July Packet the full particulars of the company will be laid before the Government.

The private Bank Mauá is doing a good business, but not having any paper emission its operations are comparatively limited; its connection being almost exclusively Brazilian, it enjoys very little English or American patronage. The high character of the gentlemanly manager of this Bank has tended greatly to extend its business.

Emigration is gradually increasing, and we learn, from private sources, that the governments of the respective provinces will shortly hold out inducements, similar to Australia and United States, for all farmers and agriculturists who wish to settle down in these countries.

We have every hope that, after arranging the Capital question, the National Government will take this matter up, and that every immigrant who comes amongst us will, on application to the commissioners, have his farm of land to go to and, for the first year, receive seed and farming implements.

Commercial Review

Dry Goods.

Our dry goods market has been dull this month, demand from the country and the Provinces being at a complete stand still.

From Entre Rios and Corrientes several dealers came down at the commencement of the month and made purchases of staple goods at good rates but since several houses have received orders to hold on their cotton goods for higher rates which they as well as the native dealers do not want, nor is there any probability of their paying until they shall absolutely require them.

The bad state of the roads having interrupted traffic with the country districts, all those articles of their special consumption are very difficult of sale especially jergas, bajeros, mantas, pellones and cotton and woollen ponchos cloths,

Bayetas and cloths are also without demand.

No improvement has been noticed for guarani cottons, liencillos and other descriptions suited to the Paraguay and Corrientes markets but as importers still hold on for higher rates, little has been done.

Collections in town have been middling this month, outstanding accounts being limited on account of the few sales effected towards the end of last year.

From the Provinces remittances have arrived continuously although in small quantities, which may be considered in view of the present state of the interior, satisfactory.

Comestibles

Our Comestibles market has been well supplied with staple articles on account of the frequency of arrivals from Spain and the Mediterranean.

Prices have declined a little and dealers are very cautious in their purchases owing to the number of expeditions announced on the way and momentarily expected.

Sales during the fortnight have been made as follows.

Sugar 300 barrels refined ex Piramid from New York at 21 rials in bond (moist). Ex Venturita from Havana 788 boxes do in bond at 19, 1 1/4, 16 1/2 and 13 1/2 rials respectively according to quality, ex Vlyt from Hamburg 100 barrels refined do $ 81 duty paid, 500 barrels do ex Gezusters from Hamburg in bond at 20 1/2 rls, and 500 do at private terms.

Spirits—The cargo per Elizabeth at private terms, 275 pipes caña at 50 pats. in bond.

Wines.—Ex Hortensia from Tarragona, 491 pipes wine mark Olena and Grasset at 52 1/2 pats. in bond; ex Rengo from Barcelona 60 do seco wine 75 pats, ex Ventura from do her stock of tinto wine 56 pats.

French do ex Telegraphe, Audfredy and Etincelle from Bordeaux several parcels wine at $ 560 duty paid.

Coffee—Ex Mersey from Rio, 400 bags do at 19 pats, ex Mersey from Monte Video, 130 bags do at 21 pats

Imports

Salt—Imports this month, 22,200 fgs.— sold at from 10 to 11 rials, except a cargo to arrive, at 8 3/4 rls.

Coal—Imports 92 tons, sold at 14 to 14 1/2 hard dollars on board.

Ex Phoenix to arrive from Troon her cargo of coal at 12 pats on board.

Lumber—Imports, 923,076, feet; American, at 36 1/2 to 37 and 40 hard dollars, and Hamburg at 35 1/2. 150,000 feet were imported on consumer's account.

Produce.

Our produce market has been very dull this month, sales having been limited to a few parcels in fulfilment of previous engagements.

Saladeros in this province have already ceased slaughtering, and it is expected that those in Entre-Rios and Uruguay will speedily follow, cattle being, as usual at this season, very lean.

There has been no demand for hides of German descriptions, of which the stock is great, only one sale having been made this month.

The observations which we made for the last mail are equally applicable to this one; and if we except the unusual dullness in our produce trade there is little to notice.

Salted Hides.—Sales during the fortnight are 2,400 novillos at 45 5/8 rls, 1000 cow do 37 rls.

Tallow.—No stock or sales.

Beef.—No sales nor demand. Stock 63,500 quintals

Horse hides.—2,000 salted hides sold at 15 3/8 rls

Mares' Grease—A few small parcels have been sold at $ 43 without cask.

Slaughter this month.—4,200 hides.

Wool—About 30,000 arrobes have been sold since the departure of the French mail, which is under the average estimate. All sold at current quotations, although the demand has fallen considerably.

Classified Hides—Since our last only one sale of 2600 hides of German descriptions has taken place, and there is no demand for this class. There are very few on hand suitable for the Spanish, Mediterranean or North American markets.

In Sheepskins, Hair and Bones, we have no sales to report nor stock on hand.

Freights.

Since our last review per French mail, freights have declined from their former high rates, owing to the numerous arrivals and decrease of the exports, and we expect a further reduction will yet take place as arrivals have continued in abundance.

Present quotations must be considered nominal.

Cargo has been engaged for vessels on the berth as follows.

For England, 5,000 salted ox and cow hides, 18,200 horse do, 5,600 dry ox and cow do, 2,650 pipes tallow, 400 boxes do, 30 a 40 pipes mares grease, 940 boxes do, 1262 bales wool 210 bags do.

For Antwerp and Northern Continent—45,180 salted ox and cow hides, 700 do horse do, 22,024 dry ox and cow hides, 100 horse do, 1300 pipes tallow, 31 boxes do, 1525 bales wool.

Interesting to all Esteiciteros and Cattle Factors.

By the "Bella Paula," just arrived from Liver pool, they have been received the following stock which will be offered for Sale at Public Auction—

SIR Shropshire Down RAMS, of the very best and purest breed, which, for hardy constitution early maturity, weight, quality of carcase and wool are unrivalled by any breed now known, and possess extra valuable cross with many existing flocks, independent of its value as a distinct breed, for either of which purposes it is far superior to any English sheep now existing in the Buenos Ayres.

These animals let by the season, at enormous prices, in England.

"NIAGARA."

A pure-bred Hereford Bull, possessing, in addition to all the good qualities and advantages of the short-horned breed, a hardy constitution and a much heavier hide.

"KNIGHT OF GWYNNE."

A pure-bred Durham and Hereford Bull

The breed is already well known and appreciated in this Country. Also—A very handsome and well broke single handed Pony.

The above may be viewed several days hence from retained and highly appraised off by 9am at 11 Plaza Lorea.

Between Buen Orden and Lima

This school is designed to give a thorough and liberal education, to furnish the facilities for acquiring the English and French languages, and the best instruction in arithmetic, drawing and music, and other accomplishments. Two English teachers reside in the family and also an excellent French teacher, who give their personal attention to the pupils. The moral training and the health and physical development of the scholars are carefully attended to.
